YOU INVEST FOR A FAMILY OFFICE

The best deals are never shopped around. Their owners are looking for patient capital.

Stan, your AI Corporate Developer, reviews every company on your market every night, keeps the ones that fit the family's thesis and writes down why he discarded the rest. You keep the one job that matters: deciding. No analyst team, no waiting for deals the whole market has already seen.

- Your first 10 opportunities from the family holding's website
- Free trial, no credit card
- A human Corporate Developer tunes Stan with you

Fictional example, to show the format

YOUR WEEK

Deals come to you on their own. That is the problem.

Private banks, intermediaries, funds: everyone sends you deals. Rarely the ones you would have picked yourself.

Monday, 8:30 am

The teaser you have already seen

Your private banker forwards an "opportunity reserved for a handful of families". You recognise the file: it was already circulating in the spring, under another code name. Who passed on it, and why?

Wednesday, 6 pm

An answer expected by Friday

A fund offers you a co-investment. The documentation arrives late, its committee has already voted, and it wants your answer by Friday. You follow its analysis, or you pass.

Thursday, lunch

Never heard of you

You learn that a family business in your region has opened its capital to a fund. The owner wanted a patient shareholder, with no forced exit. He had no idea you existed.

Family committee

"Why this one?"

The family wants each line explained: the trade, the risk, its weight in their wealth. You have a conviction and a teaser. Not a memo.

A TYPICAL WEEK

From your whole market to 1 to 3 decisions

YOUR MARKET	STAN	US	YOU
~3,000	~245	~15	1 to 3
relevant companies, and new ones every day	screened every week, ~15 kept	analysed and checked, with a memo	decisions a week: YES or NO

Averages measured across our first 10 clients: Stan eliminates 94% of the work before it reaches your team.

WHAT IS AT STAKE

In direct investing, the best deal is the one nobody sent you.

01

The deals you receive have already been seen by others.

A file that reaches you through a bank or an intermediary has already been looked at, and sometimes turned down, elsewhere. The companies that would suit you best are not for sale: their owner is planning succession and talks to the people they know.

02

Your patient capital only counts if owners can find you.

A founder who refuses a forced exit, a family handing over without selling to a fund: you could be their best shareholder. Provided they know you exist.

03

The family committee wants a case, not a hunch.

It needs to understand the business, the risks and the weight of the holding in the family's wealth. A team of a handful of people cannot write that for every deal. Stan does it for every company he keeps.

HOW PROPLACE ANSWERS

What Stan does for you, every night

On the left, what you need. In the middle, Stan's work. On the right, what you get.

WHAT YOU NEED →	WHAT STAN DOES →	WHAT YOU GET
See the companies nobody presents to you	He derives the family's thesis from your website, then queries 22 sourcing engines: registries, hiring, press, fundraises, new websites.	A map of your market that fills in every day: about 3,000 relevant companies on average.
Only see what fits the family	He screens every company against your thesis: MATCH or NO MATCH, with a written reason for every company he discards.	1 to 3 decisions a week, each with its memo. Not a pile of teasers.
Bring a case to the committee	He writes a detailed investment memo calibrated to the ticket (LBO, strategic or venture), naming every risk.	An institutional-quality case for the family investment committee.
Talk to the owner directly	For every company you validate, he drafts the message to its owner and tracks the follow-ups.	A direct talk with the owner, before any sale mandate.
From closing to follow-up	He prepares the NDA, letter of intent or term sheet, then a due diligence checklist and a 100-day plan.	One thread all the way to monitoring the holding, with your advisers.

YOUR MODE: PATIENT INVESTOR

What Stan looks at for you

Stan is not looking for "good deals". He is looking for the ones the family would want to hold for a long time.

Family trade and values
The sectors where the family has expertise and credibility, and those it rules out on principle.

A long horizon
Companies that benefit from a stable shareholder, with no exit date imposed on them.

Ticket and stake
Minority, majority or venture ticket: Stan adapts his model (LBO, strategic, VC) to each deal.

The owner's situation
A family business to hand over, a founder seeking a long-term partner, a partner who wants out.

Seat at the table
Board seat, minority rights, and your relationship with the owner.

Concentration and risks
The exposures the family wants to limit, set out in the thesis, and every risk named in the memo.

WHAT YOU GET

Decisions, not teasers

The instant memo
For every company kept: what it does, why it fits the family, the verdict.

The detailed investment memo
Thesis, risks, a model calibrated to the ticket and the questions to ask the owner.

The Monday review
Your pending decisions, Stan's decisions, and the news of the markets you invest in.

The outreach message
Written for the owner, sent only with your approval, follow-ups tracked.

NDA, LOI or term sheet
Drafted to suit the ticket, for your advisers to approve.

Following the holding
The 100-day plan, then your reporting set against the original thesis.

THE ALTERNATIVES

Yes · Partly · No

Your deal sources today, and what they cost you

WHAT MATTERS	Proplace	Private banks	Fund co-investments	The family's network
Covers your whole market	✓ Every night, 22 engines	◐ Whatever is up for sale	✗ The fund's own deals, if invited	◐ The owners you already know
Starts from the family's thesis	✓ Your thesis drives the screening	✗ The deal of the moment	✗ The fund's thesis, not yours	◐ On affinity, without a method
Says why a company is discarded	✓ A written reason for each one	✗ Never	✗ Never	✗ Rarely
Gives you time to decide	✓ Direct approach, before any process	✗ The seller's timetable	✗ A few days, late documents	◐ If someone thinks of you in time
Cost	✓ Free trial, then an annual plan	◐ Usually paid by the seller	◐ Low fees, but you follow the fund	◐ Time, and favours to return ⓘ Proplace replaces neither your advisers nor your network: lawyers, auditors and bankers stay in the loop, and the deals they bring you can go through Stan's screening too.

GO FURTHER, FOR FREE

What's next?

Three ways to start today

The Proplace sheet (PDF) · This page, online

Scan to launch your deal flow

1 Your first 10 opportunities
Enter the site of the family holding or business: Stan derives your criteria and returns ten companies, kept or discarded, each with its reason.

Get my opportunities →

2 Your direct investment thesis, written by Stan
Before the first company, Stan shows you the thesis he understood from the family: sectors, tickets, horizon. You correct it in one sentence; it then drives all the screening.

See my thesis →

3 A verdict on the deals you have been offered
A bank teaser, a co-investment to decide on? Once your deal flow is running, paste their websites: Stan returns an instant, reasoned verdict on each, using your 3 daily credits.

Have my deals analysed →

Proplace · AI Corporate Developer · alexandre@proplace.co

General information, not investment advice.